

Paige Britt

Author Bio

Short Version:

Paige Britt is the author of WHY AM I ME?, a picture book celebration of humanity and diversity. It received four starred reviews and was recognized by the New York Times as one of five new picture books that “not only embolden children to think, but inspire them to feel.” Paige is also the author of the middle-grade fantasy, THE LOST TRACK OF TIME, “an exuberant homage to the power of imagination and creative problem-solving” (Publishers Weekly, starred review).

Slightly Longer Version:

Paige Britt grew up in a small town in Texas, with her nose in a book and her head in the clouds. She studied journalism in college and theology in graduate school, but never stopped reading children's books for life's most important lessons.

She is the author of WHY AM I ME?, a picture book celebration of humanity and diversity. It received four starred reviews and was recognized by the New York Times as one of five new picture books that “not only embolden children to think, but inspire them to feel.” Paige is also the author of the middle-grade fantasy, THE LOST TRACK OF TIME, “an exuberant homage to the power of imagination and creative problem-solving” (Publishers Weekly, starred review).

In addition to being a writer, she is a meditation instructor and spiritual director. She lives near Austin, Texas, with her husband.

Website: paigebritt.com / Media contact: Jennifer Abbots, Scholastic Inc.:
212- 389-3788, JAbbots@Scholastic.com / Rights inquires: Marietta B. Zacker,
Gallt & Zacker Literary Agency: 973-761-6358, marietta@galltzacker.com